Synopsis

Night, national road. Two strangers meet for the first time at an old gas station. One has stopped to gas up his bike, while the other is just stranded. Lacking the 22.50€ he needs to get home, he will try to sell him the distance that separates them from the sky.

Premiered at Festival de Cannes | Short film Competition

1st screening : Friday, 24 of may, 11am at Salle Debussy & 2pm at Salle Soixantième

The director

Vasilis Kekatos (1991) is a Greek writer/director based in Athens. After graduating from Brunel University's School of Arts in London, he won Sundance Ignite Short Film Challenge 2016 with his short Zero Star Hotel. In 2017, he participated in Euro Connection in Clermont-Ferrand, as well as in Nisi Masa ESP, with the script of his short The Silence of the Dying Fish. The film had its world premiere in Locarno Film Festival (2018) and its US premiere in Sundance Film Festival (2019), while it has also been selected in many festivals around the world, like Palm Springs, ZINEBI and Villeurbanne, where it won Best Film. His latest short The Distance Between Us and the Sky will have its world premiere in Cannes Film Festival, as part of the Short Films Competition. Vasilis is currently working on the script for his debut feature.
